

Alison Womack

I have lived in Amorgos for 12 years and have been involved with the Yperia Convention throughout that time and the Film festival from it's start. Tourism is vital to the island and so I understand how tourism films can help promote the island in the right way.

I love to travel, starting from a childhood in an army family, the opportunity to live in Kenya for three years when my husband was seconded there and thus the chance to visit neighbouring countries and islands. More recently I have been travelling to European cities, embracing music as I go and also to South East Asia.

My career was in radiography where I learned the importance of understanding your equipment to get the best quality images/cinefilms first time.